Data in Many Forms...

Statistics Canada disseminates data in a variety of forms. In addition to publications, both standard and special tabulations are offered on computer print-outs, microfiche and microfilm, and magnetic tapes. Maps and other geographic reference materials are available for some types of data. Direct access to aggregated information is possible through CANSIM, Statistics Canada's machine-readable data base and retrieval system.

Introduction

Information collected and published by Statistics Canada relates to many different aspects of our economic, social and cultural life in Canada. This information, for marketing purposes, is normally segregated into broad subject-matter groupings, and may be presented according to a number of diverse classifications, such as: population, household or family universes, business, and institutional categories. Additionally there may be separate reference guides issued for material depending on its medium of dissemination, as for example, printed, tape, microfiche, electronic forms, etc.

This Guide to Statistics Canada Data on Women brings together source references on a slightly different concept, which is on the theme of women and women's issues, as a target group. It contains sources of data found separately in various Statistics Canada Current Publications Index Catalogues and companion reference products, generally wherever a male/female distinction or a theme devoted to women's issues was noted. The catalogue follows the recommendations made by United Nations and other groups meeting to review and appraise progress during the United Nations Decade for Women (1976-1985), namely that follow-on work, or "Forward Looking Strategies" as they were termed, was necessary. Singled out as particularly important, was the preparation and maintenance of inventories of national statistics and indicators relating to the role and situation of women.

Responsibility for coordinating the preparation of this report was given to the Target Groups Data Bases Project. This is a small project team formed in 1985 to integrate data on target group populations from the diverse holdings within Statistics Canada. Target Groups also include Youth, the Elderly, Aboriginal Peoples, Visible Minorities and Disabled, as examples. Thus, it is anticipated that this report on women is but the forerunner of other products to come, such as reference guides, chartbooks, and databases, designed to facilitate user access to Target Group data.

Coverage

Sources for the information listed herein include the main Statistics Canada Current Publications Index Catalogue as well as the Listing of Supplementary Documents (Catalogue 11-207), Directory to Microdata and Special Tabulations (Catalogue 11-514) Canadian Socio-Economic Information Management System (CANSIM) and Products and Services of the 1981 and 1986 Census of Canada. Attempts were made to include information available up to the publishing date of this catalogue.

Certain types of material describing Statistics Canada output are not included in the catalogue, such as Daily and Weekly Bulletins, promotional literature and product guides and directories themselves. It should also be noted that in the case of the source Listing of Supplementary Documents noted above, only those items actually indicating sex or women's data in the title were selected, as there were no abstracts available and investigating each individual title was not feasible.

Organization

References are located generally in one of three main sections of the catalogue, depending primarily on the medium of dissemination. Catalogued print publications, except for Census, are found in Part I. Non-catalogued publications, off-the shelf tabulations, microfiche and information on tape or in electronic format, as well as a general summary listing for Census products, are located in Part II - Other Sources of Information by Major Subject Matter Area and Medium of Dissemination. Selected articles, not covered by Parts I and II (such as articles published in the Canadian Statistical Review, and papers presented at Conferences), are contained in Part III - A Selected Bibliography.

References listed in Part I form the major part of this guide. To assist users in locating a topic within Part I, the Alphabetic Index was created. This lists all the variables occurring and directs the user to the catalogue number (presented in ascending order) of the publication in which that variable may be found. Each citation includes: the title, STC Catalogue, ISSN or ISBN numbers, periodicity, approximate size, content outline and a listing of tables or types of tables presented. For example, in cases where tables simply repeat information with only a slight, (such as geographic) variation, they have been excluded, as such detail would have been indicated in the content outline. In some cases, tables without a sex breakdown have been included to give the user a more complete idea of the overall content which may be available by sex on a special request basis, from the survey data base concerned. Users will also note the absence of table numbers, as these often change over time in any given publication.

Special Notes

Due to the significant variation in timeliness of annual data, some of which can be several years behind the publication date, a precise year was not shown, but indications of the first date issue were made where possible. For somewhat similar reasons, no price was shown for the products listed, as these also can vary substantially over time. For publications noted as "occasional", the last year of published data was shown, as in quite a few cases there had not yet been another issue. Also with respect to "occasional" publications, a number may be out of print and not available for purchase (see also note (ii) following). It is recommended that users interested in such detail consult the various catalogues mentioned above, in their local library and/or contact the nearest Statistics Canada User Advisory Services (see instructions in the "How to obtain More Information Section").

Definitions of terminology used in various subject-matter areas were not included in this Guide. In most cases, users will find this type of information in the actual report cited.

While the "How to Obtain More Information" section on the inside front cover provides general direction to users, a few additional suggestions are offered here which might facilitate the location of information:

- (i) The Directory to Microdata and Special Tabulations (Catalogue 11-514) itself contains actual points of contact with respect to much of the data sources not listed in the basic annual catalogues, such as microdata, off-the-shelf tabulations and special requests, as contained in Part II of this Guide.
- (ii) For titles listed in Part III – A Selected Bibliography, the only source of reference may be the Statistics Canada Library. Libraries may borrow titles through Interlibrary Loan arrangements, although there is a possibility the title may have been published in a journal or other secondary source, in which case holdings should be checked beforehand.

Cardiovascular Disease in Canada. Occasional, Bil. 182 pp. ISBN 0-660-52905-X

Contents

Cardiovascular Disease in Canada is the first comprehensive report about health risk number one in several decades. Its 182 pages and 25 illustrative charts review major cause of death in Canada to put heart disease in context. Then, the causes of heart disease are examined in detail (heart attack, stroke, diseases of the arteries, ischemic heart disease, etc.). A look at hospital discharge rates is also included. The study also gives a global perspective, comparing Canada with other industrialized countries like the U.S., Switzerland and Japan. For instance, Canada's heart attack mortality rate is almost five times that of Japan's but the Japanese suffer twice as many strokes.

A Prognosis for Hospitals: The Effects of Population Change on the Need for Hospital Space, 1967-2031. Occasional, English and French, 92 pp.

Contents

This paper provides four projections of the demand for hospital space and concomitant costs, by age groups and sex, for the period ranging from 1976 to 2031.

Alternatives are presented to show how costs could be reduced if the demand was met through greater use of lower care facilities. Special emphasis is placed on the aging Canadian population.

Occupational Mortality in British Columbia. Occasional, Bil. 72 pp. ISBN 0-660-52872-X

Contents

This publication is the first province-wide analysis of occupational mortality risks in Canada. The authors used information on usual lifetime occupation recorded on death registrations for residents of British Columbia who died between 1950 and 1978. Proportionate mortality ratios(MPR) were used to detect unusual patterns of mortality.

Although the data represents only one province, the wide range of occupations in British Columbia makes the publication useful to the country as a whole.

Longevity and Historical Life Tables 1921-1981 (Abridged). Occasional, Bil. 215 pp. ISBN 0-660-52882-7

Contents

A total of 420 abridged life tables are supplied for Canada and the provinces at five year intervals from 1921 to 1981. Since the same method has been used to construct all the tables, comparisons can be made from one interval to the next. Mortality statistics are provided in 15 different categories such as Median and Mean Age at Death, Life Expectancy at Selected Ages, and Increase in Years in Life Expectancy. Charts effectively illustrate the most important results. An analytical text summarizes the important trends such as the phenomenal drop in Infant, Neonatal and Post-neonatal Death Rates – since 1921, infant mortality has been reduced by 90%.

The text deals briefly with an important demographic trend regarding longevity. Over the last 30 years, more people are surviving their early years and living into old age. At the same time, the number living past 90 has remained constant, suggesting there are limits to increases in life expectancy.

The Seniors Boom, Dramatic Increases in Longevity and Better Prospects for Health. Occasional, Bil. 140 pp. ISBN 0-660-52898-3

Contents

Recent dramatic improvements in longevity have taken place among Canada's seniors. At the same time, they have shown indications of improving their health practices. Thus, Canada's seniors have good prospects not only of living longer, but also of enjoying better overall health.

This is the message of the Seniors Boom, a thought-provoking book which offers innovative approaches to analyzing data on aging. It charts Statistics Canada's latest projections of what will happen as the baby boomers pass through their senior years, as well as exploring aspects of lifestyles that appear to promote better health among the elderly. With well-written text and 32 colourful charts, The Senior's Boom is an essential reference for Canadians who need a clear and concise review of aging in the 80s.

Family History Survey, Preliminary Findings. Occasional, Bil., 48 pp. ISBN 0-660-52865-7

Contents

This publication reports initial findings from Statistics Canada's 1984 Family History Survey. These data provide new insights into the relationship between significant demographic events – such as marriages, divorces, births, deaths, labour force participation and work interruption – and movement through the family life cycle. New perspectives emerge on divorce, remarriage, common-law unions and the raising of natural, adopted and step- children.

Women's Work Interruptions. Occasional, Bil. 36 pp ISBN 0-660-52895-9

Contents

This report, one of a series of studies based on retrospective data collected by the 1984 Family History Survey, examines relationships between work interruptions and family-related events, particularly the birth of children. The survey data reveal significant differences between men and women in terms of the number of job interruptions and reasons for them.

The study of work histories of women, who, as the survey shows, are affected by discontinuities in the attachment to the work-force to a much greater degree than men, represents an essential element in any examination of economic disparities between men and women.

Union Formation and Dissolution. Occasional, Bil. 34 pp. ISBN 0-660-52897-5

Contents

This report is one of a series of studies based on retrospective data collected by the 1984 Family History Survey. In this study, the processes of family formation and dissolution are examined as they evolved in the last 50 years.

The Family History Survey data provide an important new historical perspective on families as they were formed either through legal marriages or common-law unions. Similarly, they shed new light on processes that lead to family disintegration through separation, divorce or the death of a spouse/partner.

The chronology of demographic events recorded by the survey makes it possible to trace the frequency of changes in the family status of individuals as well as to measure the duration of each phase in their family life cycle.

DEMOGRAPHIC ASPECTS

Vital Statistics

Information on births, stillbirths, marriages, divorces and deaths in Canada, together with demographic characteristics such as age, sex, marital status, etc. For births, additional detail such as birth weight, birth order, period of gestation, etc.; for deaths, very detailed causes of death are provided.

Other Media of Data Dissemination

From 1950, off-the-shelf tabulations covering full range of detail; special request tabulations covering approximately 50 variables (see Cat. No. 11-514, page 77)

CANSIM Time Series Database, Matrix Numbers 0804, 0805, 0806 (see CANSIM Main Base Index) provide basic data on births, deaths and marriages

CANSIM Cross-classified Database provides information on:

births – Table Number 00010102;

deaths, including causes of deaths by age and sex, as well as maternal deaths, infant deaths, and perinatal deaths – Table Numbers 00020104, 00470401, 00470403;

marriage, including characteristics of bride and groom – Table Number 00040102.

For further details, see CANSIM Cross-classified Table Directory

Additional Information

Local area data of Catalogue No. 84-542 are available annually by request.

Hospitals and Mental Institutions Patient Morbidity

Information on number of separations by province, sex and age group; morbidity rates per 100,000 population; days of in-patient care; days of in-patient care per 100,000 population and average days of care. These elements are cross-classified by some 1,000 medical codes for morbidity, surgical procedures and treatment set out by the International Classification of Diseases.

Other Media of Data Dissemination

Approximately 150 off-the-shelf tabulations; special request tabulations available for 25 to 55 variables, according to province (see Catalogue No. 11-514, page 71).

CANSIM Cross-classified Database provides information on:

Notifiable and Rare Diseases – Table Numbers 00050101, 00050102, 00050112, 00050113;

Venereal Diseases – Table Number 00050201.

For further details, see CANSIM Cross-classified Table Directory

Additional Information

Data on deaths in hospitals, secondary diagnosis, surgery and condition of patients at time of discharge, and accidents, not included in print publications, are also available.

Canada Health Survey

A sample survey of the civilian non-institutionalized Canadian population, 15 years of age and over (excluding residents of the territories and Indian reserves) covering 352 variables (including weighting factors) and measuring risk factors – life style, biomedical and environmental variables; health status – physical and emotional health and health problem information; and health status consequences – medical care utilization and health problem impact. Extensive demographic and some household characteristic information are available.

Other Media of Data Dissemination

Microdata tape based on 31,668 records (some containing fewer than the entire 352 variables).

Fifty off-the-shelf tabulations.
Special request tabulations.

Survey of Smoking Habits

A supplementary survey to the Canadian Labour Force Survey, conducted biennially since 1977 and covering the civilian non-institutionalized population of Canada, 15 years of age and older, excluding residents of the territories and Indian reserves. Provides data on non-smokers, regular cigarette smokers and occasional cigarette smokers. Standard demographic variables are shown for each respondent.

Other Media of Data Dissemination

Microdata tapes of approximately 39,000 records.

Population Estimates and Projections

Data from Censuses of Population and Housing, vital statistics, and administrative records of various federal government departments (family allowance, immigration, taxation and other records) are used to provide (mainly) annual postcensal and intercensal estimates of population, households and families, interprovincial and international migration, as well as projections of population, households and families.

Other Media of Data Dissemination

An extensive array of off-the-shelf tabulations is available covering mainly annual or census year data for various periods not generally available in print publications, e.g.:

estimates of family allowance recipients;

population estimates by single year of age, sex and marital status; revised estimates of number of households by number of persons per household;

components of census family growth;

revised estimates of number of families by number of persons per family, number of children per family, number 14-24 years of age at school and in labour force, etc.;

emigrants by sex, Canada and the provinces;

immigrants by age, and marital status, Canada and the provinces;

interprovincial migrants by age, sex and marital status, Canada and the provinces;

household, family and population projections.

Special request tabulations are also available for:

experimental estimates of migration from individual income tax records;

household, family and population projections.

The CANSIM Time Series Database provides:

population estimates by age group and sex for Canada and the provinces – Matrix Numbers 6968 to 6980;

immigration by province of destination, intended occupation, country of last permanent residence – Matrix Numbers 801, 802, 803;

interprovincial migration of children, adults and families – Matrix Numbers 6981 and 6982; population projections from 1984-2006 – Matrix Numbers 6900 to 6912.

The CANSIM Cross-Classified Database provides:

Postcensal population estimates – Table Numbers 00180701, 00460201, 00460202, 00470201, 00470202;

Interprovincial migration estimates of immigrants and emigrants – Table Numbers 00460301, 00470103 to 00470108;

Population projections – Table Number 00470204.

ECONOMIC ASPECTS

Income, Assets and Debts

Since 1971, an annual household survey covering virtually all private households in Canada (Survey of Consumer Finances) has collected information on the income of families and unattached individuals. In alternate years, the survey is based on small and large samples respectively, the latter being derived as supplements of the Labour Force Survey and the former independently from the LFS. This results in differences of available detail in the two years. In 1977, the basic SCF was supplemented by a special survey of assets and debts.

Other Media of Data Dissemination

Approximately 140 off-the-shelf tabulations of economic families, census families, individuals 15 years of age or older with income, and individuals with earnings, showing percentage distributions of each universe by major source and composition of income, by demographic and labour force characteristics, Annual data from 1971.

Also special-request tabulations from Consumer Income Divisional Master File relating to economic families, census families and income recipients 15 years and over, providing 16 component sources of income for each universe, together with personal and labour force characteristics of individual and family members, annually since 1971.

Microdata tapes of: income, assets and debt data of economic families and unattached individuals for 1976; income of census families living in private dwellings, biennially since 1971; income of economic families and unattached individuals living in private dwellings, biennially since 1973.

For more details on the above, see Catalogue No. 11-514, pages 7 to 10.

Labour Force Survey

A monthly survey of the civilian, non-institutional population, 15 years of age and over, excluding residents of the Territories and Indian reserves, collecting data on basic demographic characteristics (age, sex, marital status, family relationships), education and labour market activities, such as employment status, hours worked, job tenure, industry, occupation, school attendance, time lost, job search activities, type of work sought, duration of joblessness, unemployment and job termination details. Supplementary surveys are carried out from time to time, e.g.: Absence from Work Survey; Survey of Annual Work Patterns; Survey of Job Opportunities; Survey of 1981 Work History.

Other Media of Data Dissemination

Off-the-shelf tabulations of historical labour force data from 1966. More detail provided after 1975 when LFS was revised.

Special request tabulations also from 1966 but with not all variables available prior to 1975.

Microdata tapes also available for:

Labour Force Survey proper, monthly from 1975;
Survey of 1981 Work History;
Survey on Absence from Work, annually from 1976;
Survey of Annual Work Patterns, annually from 1977; Revised to Labour Market Activity Survey in 1987;
Survey of Job Opportunities, annually from 1979.

More details on the above appear in Catalogue No. 11-514, pages 57 to 60.

CANSIM Time Series Database contains historical data, on basic labour force characteristics for Canada, regions and provinces by sex, age and marital status – Data from revised Labour Force Survey are available in Matrix Numbers 2064-2076, 2078-2099, 2101-2107;

CANSIM Cross-classified Data Base also has labour force characteristics for Canada and the provinces, Table Number 00799999 and 41 cities, Table Number 00700313.

Labour Union Membership

An annual survey conducted under the authority of the Corporations and Labour Unions Returns Act which, inter alia, collects information on male and female union memberships by province and by major industry group, with the corresponding number of paid workers.

Other Media of Data Dissemination

Special-request tabulations covering approximately 12 variables since 1975.

Pension Plans

A Statistics Canada survey and administrative records of provincial and federal departments provide information on number of plans, membership by sex, amount of contributions together with type of employer organization, public or private sector, contributory or non-contributory, major industries of the Standard Industrial Classification, funding, eligibility for membership, integration with Canada/Québec Pension Plan, type of plan, contribution rates, benefit rates, disability conditions, retirement ages, indexing, vesting, refunds and forfeitures on termination, death benefits, spouses and orphans' pensions.

Other Media of Data Dissemination

Off-the-shelf tabulations for 1970, and biennially since 1974, providing more details on numbers of plans, membership by sex and amount of contributions than are included in print publications

Special-request tabulations for 1970, and biennially since 1974, providing cross-tabulations of 25 variables as listed above.

For more details on the above, see Catalogue No. 11-514, pages 63 and 64.

Unemployment Insurance

Administrative records of the Canada Employment and Immigration Commission provide the basis for monthly, quarterly and annual statistics of estimates of contributors, beneficiaries, claims received and allowed, reasons for claims (including maternity), benefit periods established and terminated, weeks and amounts of benefits, etc.

Other Media of Data Dissemination

Off-the-shelf tabulations of monthly data from April 1978 for provinces, census divisions and federal electoral districts.

Special request tabulations of monthly data from January 1982 for user-defined postal code groupings.

CANSIM Time Series Database provides the data of Catalogue No. 73-001 and 73-001P above in Matrix Numbers 5700 to 5717, and those of Catalogue No. 73-201 in Matrix Numbers 5718 to 5727, 5729, 5730.

For more details see the 1987 CANSIM Main Base Directory, pages C-8 and C-9.

Workers' Compensation Programs

Partly descriptive, partly statistical information relating to various provincial programs of workmens'/workers' compensation. Analyzes characteristics of claimants, degree of disability, duration of wage loss and other variables. Provides analysis in relation to labour force, general population and personal income.

Note: These statistics not prepared directly by Statistics Canada but collated from various provincial sources.

Family Allowances and Related Programs

Information on Family Allowances and the Child Tax Credit as well as former programs of Family Assistance and Youth Allowances. Statistics on beneficiaries, their number and amounts paid.

Other Social Security Programs

Information on a number of related programs for federal-provincial cost sharing of provincially administered social allowances and services directed to assisting the older population, blind persons and the disabled, and to general welfare.

SOCIAL ASPECTS

Elementary/Secondary Teachers

Information on teachers, full-time and part-time, employed by school boards in all provinces except Quebec, as well as teachers in the Territories and Department of National Defence schools. Data variables for teachers are : sex, age, teaching level, staff position, employment status, certification, specialization, teaching experience, degrees held, salary and recruitment source.

Other Media of Data Dissemination

Special request tabulations of annual data from 1970-71 for variables listed above.

More details are provided by Catalogue No. 11-514, page 65.

CANSIM Cross-classified Database provides information on elementary/secondary teachers, together with information on schools and enrolment in Table 00570101. Tables 00570401 to 00570403 provide information on characteristics of teachers.

Elementary/Secondary and Minority Language Enrolments

Information for public schools operated by school boards in Canada on: total enrolment by age and sex and by grade and sex; French program enrolments by grade and sex; numbers of schools by French program offered.

Other Media of Data Dissemination

Special request tabulations of above variables, annually from 1979.

CANSIM Cross-classified Database provides enrolment information, together with information on teachers in Table 00570101. Enrolment data are provided in Tables 00570201 to 00570204 and 00570301 to 00570304 (minority language education).

College Enrolment

Information on students enrolled at community colleges and institutes of technology, including age, sex, program of study, duration of program, years on course and activity prior to enrolment.

Other Media of Data Dissemination

Special request tabulations of above variables, annually from 1974.

Also CANSIM Cross-classified Database Table 00580402.

College Educational Staff

An annual Statistics Canada Census of full-time educational staff employed by colleges and public trade schools provides data on age, sex, year of appointment to staff and other personal and professional characteristics.

More details are provided on page 69 of Catalogue No. 11-514.

Other Media of Data Dissemination

Special request tabulations of above variables (approximately 40), annually since 1976.

CANSIM Cross-classified Database also provides this information in Tables 00580301 and 00580302.

University Students

Information on all full-time and part-time students enrolled in the fall of each academic year, and all degrees granted during a calendar year. Student information includes age, sex, marital status, mother tongue, citizenship and province of residence. Program information includes level of registration, type of attendance, major field of study, duration of program and type of session.

Other Media of Data Dissemination

Special request tabulations of above information in more detail than provided by print publications; degree information annually from 1970, enrolment information annually from 1972-73.

CANSIM Cross-classified Database also has enrolment and degree information in Tables 00580102 and 00580203 to 00580206.

University Academic Staff

For full-time teachers at universities, information on sex, year of birth, citizenship, rank, qualifications, current salary, year appointed to current teaching position, type of appointment, and number of months on sabbatical.

Other Media of Data Dissemination

Special request tabulations, annually from 1971, covering approximately 25 variables.

CANSIM Cross-classified Database also provides information in Tables 00580201 and 00580202.

Students Registered in Apprenticeship Programs

Administrative records of students registered in provincial apprenticeship programs provide figures on: number of students registered at beginning of year and new registrants during the year; number of students quitting the program; number still registered at the end of the year who have passed the interprovincial standards examination, and those who have not; number of certificates granted. Cross-classification is by trade group.

Medium of Data Dissemination

Off-the-shelf tabulations (ten tables) of annual data from 1976.

Highly Qualified Manpower Survey

A sample survey conducted by Statistics Canada in 1973 of university graduates identified in the 1971 Census of Population provides information on sex, field of study, type of degree, current job status (by occupation and industry) and province of work. In addition, information on employment history such as most recent job, job of longest duration and job at age 30 is also provided.

Media of Data Dissemination

Microdata tape and special request tabulations.

Annual Census of Doctoral Degree Recipients

An annual Statistics Canada census of all students completing the requirements for a Ph.D. degree in a specific calendar year provides information on: their socio-economic characteristics; their educational background and experience. Data elements include: age, sex, post-graduation plans, expected areas of employment, degree title, major fields of study, awarding institutions, year study started and year degree obtained, sources of financial support during doctoral program, sources of post-doctoral fellowships, type of occupation, employer, place of work, expected income, citizenship, reasons for leaving country, family status, place of birth and mother tongue.

Other Media of Data Dissemination

Special request tabulations, annually since 1981, covering approximately 40 variables.

National Graduate Survey

A telephone sample survey by Statistics Canada of all 1976 university and college graduates, covering fields of study, employment two years after graduation (occupation and industry), relationship between study and employment, annual salaries, percentage working/not working, and job satisfaction.

Other Media of Data Dissemination

Microdata tape and special request tabulations based on file of 29,000 records covering 120 variables.

Postsecondary Students Survey

A sample survey of post-secondary students and their activities for the 1974-75 academic year, conducted by Statistics Canada for the Secretary of State. Variables covered included program of study, duration of course, type of qualification, reason for choosing program, reasons for selecting institution, and activity in preceding year. Personal data on, and financial characteristics of, individuals surveyed were also collected.

Other Media of Data Dissemination

Microdata tape and special request tabulations from a file of 26,223 records covering approximately 150 variables.

Survey of Child Care

Supplement to the monthly Labour Force Survey, carried out in February, 1981. Provides detailed information on the type, quantity and cost of non-parental care received by pre-school and school-age children. Parents' reasons for choosing a particular type of care, their desire for change and their income range are also presented. Standard demographic and labour market variables are shown for each child, and for each responsible adult (usually the mother) and spouse.

Other Media of Data Dissemination

Microdata file covering 19,962 records.

Creative and Performing Artists

A periodic sample survey conducted by Statistics Canada which has so far covered persons working as visual artists, writers, actors, directors and producers in Canada. Statistics are available for: education, professional training, income, media of production (visual artists) and work activities (writers, actors, producers and directors) and employment patterns – full- or part-time. Cross-classification is by field of work, region of residence, age, sex, citizenship, language spoken, and amount of professional experience. Data on visual artists residing in Quebec and the Atlantic provinces are based on too few responses to be considered reliable for some breakdowns.

Other Media of Data Dissemination

Three hundred off-the-shelf tabulations and special request tabulations covering 15 variables: visual artists for 1977; writers for 1978; actors, producers and directors for 1979.

Survey of Fitness, Physical Recreation and Sport

A sample survey conducted in 1976 as a supplement to the Labour Force Survey provides information on participation in selected sports and exercises. Data include frequency of participation, facilities used, motivation, favourite sport, sport most interested in starting and participation in other leisure activities. Socio-economic data on individuals surveyed such as age, sex, relationship to household head, marital status, education, class of workers, occupation, industry, labour force status and income are also provided.

Other Media of Data Dissemination

Microdata tape covering 70,000 records; 50 off-the-shelf tabulations; special request tabulations covering 65 variables.

Leisure Time Activities

A sample survey conducted by Statistics Canada in 1972, 1975 and 1978 providing generally similar information, including the amount of time Canadians spend on leisure activities such as reading, listening to music, watching television and participating in sports. In 1978 more detailed information was collected on reading habits. Statistics are also available on the number of times individuals visit cultural facilities such as museums, art galleries and libraries. The age, sex, marital status and income of respondents is also available.

Other Media of Data Dissemination

Microdata tapes are available for each year of the survey: 1972 – 45,000 records; 1975 – 30,000 records; 1978 – 17,000 records.

Off-the-shelf tabulations, approximately 150 in total.

Special request tabulations covering 100 to 200 variables according to year.

CENSUS

Census of Population and Housing *

The 1986 Census was the first mid-decade census to undertake detailed enumeration. Data on demographic, social and economic characteristics, as well as on dwellings, were collected from Canadians. The information is recorded on two data bases, the 100% data base and the 20% sample data base.

The 100% data base includes general demographic, dwelling and household data (for example: age, sex, marital status, mother tongue and structural type of dwelling) collected from the entire population.

The 20% sample data base includes the general demographic data, detailed socio-economic data (for example: ethnic origin, labour force activity, schooling, income and dwelling) collected from one-fifth of the population.

* The information provided in this listing does not cover censuses conducted prior to that of 1971 or agriculture censuses.

Basic Summary Cross-tabulations

– 100% data

Starting summer 1987

– 20% sample data

Starting spring 1988, to be released progressively by group as the data become available.

The range of the 1986 Census products and services differs somewhat from the 1981 Census. The major changes are:

- a 40% reduction in the number of publications;
- the replacement of the 1981 Census Summary Tapes program by the Basic Summary Cross-tabulations;
- improvements in the Custom Tabulations Service;
- the implementation of a new Semi-custom product line.

All data compiled by Statistics Canada are subject to confidentiality procedures under the provisions of the Statistics Act which prohibit the disclosure of any information that could identify an individual.

The Preliminary Edition – Products and Services (Catalogue 99-102) focuses on the products and services available from the 100% data base. It also presents an overview of the anticipated products and services that will be available from the 20% sample data base.

The final range of the products and services will be published in a final edition, at the beginning of 1988, before the release of the sample data.

For the censuses of 1971, 1976 and 1981, the universe includes 100% coverage of the Canadian population and its component households and families for a series of basic demographic and housing characteristics; in 1971 and 1976, a 33 1/3% sample for a series of more detailed demographic, cultural, economic and housing characteristics; in 1981, similar additional detail for a 20% sample. Overall, the 1976 Census provides less data than those of 1971 and 1981. More specifically, the following lists contain those variables, derived either directly or indirectly from the questionnaire, that are considered the most relevant for the purposes of this listing:

1971 – age, sex, marital status, mother tongue, tenure and type of dwelling, number of rooms in dwelling, water supply, bath and toilet facilities, number of persons per room, birthplace, citizenship, ethnic origin, religion, home language, school attendance, level of schooling, years of post-secondary schooling, university degree, vocational training, mobility, nuptiality, fertility, labour force activity, hours worked, weeks worked, industry, occupation, class of worker, place of work, income (individual and family). 1976 – age, sex, marital status, mother tongue, type of tenure of dwelling, level of schooling, years of university education, years of postsecondary non-university training, school attendance, degree, certificate or diploma, hours worked, labour force activity, mobility.

1981 – age, sex, marital status, mother tongue, tenure and type of dwelling, number of rooms in dwelling, number of persons per room, place of birth, citizenship, ethnic origin, religion, home language, level of schooling, years of university education, years of postsecondary non-university training, degree, certificate or diploma, school attendance, mobility, fertility, nuptiality, labour force activity, hours worked, industry, place of work, occupation, class of worker, weeks worked, income (individual and family).

Print Publications

Some 300 statistical publications of the 1971 Census of Population and Housing are listed and described briefly in the Historical Catalogue of Statistics Canada Publications, 1918-1980 (Catalogue No. 11-512), or in various issues of the annual "Statistics Canada Catalogue" from 1973 to 1982.

Similarly, more than 100 statistical publications of the 1976 Census of Population and Housing are listed and described in the historical catalogue, as well as in various issues of the annual catalogue from 1978-79 to 1984.

The 1984 edition of the annual Statistics Canada Catalogue shows some 200 statistical publications of the 1981 Census of Population and Housing. A complete listing of publications and non-print products is also contained in Products and Services of the 1981 Census of Canada.

Other Media for Dissemination of Data

Census User Summary Tape Files: These tape files are the prime "off-the-shelf" source of tabulated data at a level of geographic and substantive detail greater than that provided by the printed bulletins. They permit users to aggregate the tabulations either on a geographic basis or by combining data cells.

Custom tabulations of this sort can be undertaken by Statistics Canada as special requests. For 1971, there are 82 files containing 481 tables; for 1976, 55 files containing 147 tables; for 1981, 177 files containing 542 tables.

* Includes non-family persons.

For more information on this facility and further references, see pages 99 to 101 of Catalogue No. 11-514.

Special Request Tabulations directly from the Census Data Bases: As exemplified above, the 1971 file contains some 145 variables; the 1976 file, 55; and the 1981 file, 224. Cross tabulations may be produced of any of the variables with any other, the only restrictions being the reliability of the data, confidentiality, and the cost of production.

Public Use Sample Tape Files

One per cent sample tapes covering population and housing variables listed above, as follows:

1971 Census: Individual file – 51 variables
Household file – 53 variables
Family file – 62 variables
Total number of records – approximately 400,000.

1976 Census: Individual file – 26 variables
Household file – 21 variables
Family file – 22 variables
Total number of records – approximately 350,000.

1981 Census: Individual file (2%) – 101 variables
House/Family file:
household portion – 36 variables family portion* – 94 variables.

CANSIM Cross-classified Database contains limited data from the 1976 and 1981 Censuses as follows:

Basic characteristics for geographical regions from the 1976 Census in Tables 00460601 and 00460602.

Small area data from the 1981 Census in Tables 00460603 and 00460604.
